ABOUT ANN ROULAC

🌀 As a visionary catalyst, speaker, and author, Ann Roulac inspires and empowers people to transform their personal and professional lives. Ann's experience as an entrepreneur, coupled with her knowledge of personal mastery disciplines, gives her a unique ability to support entrepreneurs to achieve their highest potential. Ann is nationally recognized for her strategic advice and has enabled thousands of entrepreneurs to achieve financial freedom.

🌀 Roulac served as a Principal and national director of Arthur Andersen and as a division president of Bank of America Mortgage and International Realty Corporation. After fifteen years of employment within corporate America as a highly compensated rainmaker, Ann founded her own consulting company. Ann has provided strategic and economic advice to numerous family trusts, real estate developers, and financial institutions.

🌀 Ann has devoted the last two decades to the study of the spiritual practices of ancient and indigenous cultures, personal mastery disciplines, and the science of success. As a teacher of shamanic wisdom, Ann's genius is her ability to source her client's authentic vision, enabling them to create personal, professional, and financial freedom. Her sense of adventure and quest for knowledge have led her to the jungles of Guatemala, the mountain ranges of Nepal and Peru, and the pyramids of Egypt.

🌀 As a visionary, Ann has been recognized as an authority on predicting economic and cultural trends, and has been quoted by business and news publications. She has held leadership positions as a board member of nonprofits committed to making a difference in the lives of others and was a founding trustee of the World Business Academy.
